

HAMPSTEAD THEATRE 2016 2017

3 YEAR KEY INDICATORS

2016 | 2017

In the year 2016-17 Hampstead further increased creative output across both its auditoria with fifteen in-house productions including twelve world premieres (four of them Hampstead commissions) and two UK premieres – many of them large-scale plays. Indeed, in any week of the year we had an average of 24.6 Equity members under contract – an extraordinary number for a theatre of our scale. We presented a record number of performances across the year and these were attended by a record number of people. Our Access for All scheme, which offers £10 tickets for any performance to the under 30s, proved very popular – increasing sales by 30% against the previous year - and helped deliver an increasingly diverse audience. Box Office revenues attained record levels, as did core Development income, and together with excellent results from Front of House/Trading these combined to lift our accumulated Reserve to just under £1m.

We continued to build on the 2014 improvements to our public areas, rendering them still more congenial – this may, in part, be responsible for the improving trading out-turn. There is still much to do, but the institution ends the year well placed with a clear strategy, a very healthy reserve, and a settled team - alongside a rejuvenated building and an ever-improving catering offer. We enter 2017-18 with an exciting programme of work on stage ahead of us - including the first fruit of our unique Next Decade commissioning initiative - which we trust will bring further success in the next 12 months. In the autumn we will be launching our 'Inspire: The Next Playwright Programme', with playwright Roy Williams mentoring a group of young writers through a twelve month development programme.

Away from the Hampstead building, our multiple Olivier Award winning production of Sunny Afternoon played in the West End until the autumn, and then undertook a wildly successful UK tour for the rest of the year. We also free-streamed our production of Wild worldwide in association with The Guardian, our production of Scarlett enjoyed a successful run at Theatr Clwyd, and, early in the year, our 2012 production of The Judas Kiss enjoyed successful runs in Toronto and New York.

As ever, our success has been driven by the talent and flair of the many brilliant artists who create our productions: we are deeply in their debt. Our gratitude is also due to the Arts Council, to our outstanding and hardworking Board who contribute so much to the Development department, and to our many supporters in the wider community. We face the future with the utmost confidence and remain committed to repaying all those who support us by taking the institution to new heights. In the meantime, we hope you'll also enjoy this round up of another memorable year.
